

Contents

Foreword from Professor Arnoud Arntz ix

Preface xi

A Note from the Series Editor xii

Acknowledgements xiii

Part I Overview of the Schema Therapy Model

- 1 From Core Emotional Needs to Schemas, Coping Styles, and Schema Modes: The Conceptual Model of Schema Therapy 1
- 2 Research Support for Schema Therapy 16

Part II The Model of Schema Therapy in Practice

- 3 Schema Therapy Assessment 39
- 4 Case Conceptualisation and Mode Mapping in Schema Therapy 86
- 5 Envisioning the Road Ahead: A Model for the Course of Schema Therapy 96
- 6 Intervention Strategies for Schema Healing 1: Limited Reparenting 114
- 7 Intervention Strategies for Schema Healing 2: Cognitive Strategies 138
- 8 Intervention Strategies for Schema Healing 3: Experiential Techniques 150

9 Intervention Strategies for Schema Healing 4: Behavioural Pattern-Breaking Techniques 185

10 Building Connection to Healthy Modes: The Healthy Adult and Happy Child Modes 212

11 Bypassing Maladaptive Coping Modes to Support Change 226

12 Preparing for Termination and the End Phase of Schema Therapy 241

Part III Applications and Adaptations for Mental Health Presentations

- 13 Schema Therapy for Chronic Depression and Anxiety Disorders 251
- 14 Working with Complex Trauma and Dissociation in Schema Therapy 266
- 15 Schema Therapy for Eating Disorders 279

Part IV Application of Schema Therapy in Different Populations and Settings

- 16 Schema Therapy for Forensic Populations 289

17	Group Schema Therapy	302
18	Schema Therapy for the Schema Therapist: Improving Therapist Well-Being and Enhancing Client Outcomes Through the Awareness and Healing of Therapist Schemas	314	Epilogue: Continuing the Journey 342
19	Supervision and the Supervisory Relationship in Schema Therapy	327	Afterword from Jeffrey Young, PhD, Founder of Schema Therapy 344
20	Schema Therapy in the Online World	333	<hr/> Appendix: Interview Questions/Guidance for the Assessment Process (Chapter 3) 344 Index 356